Grand Champion Hog, Sheep Bring Top Prices At Sale

The grand champion market hog was purchased for $3.02 a pound and the grand champion market lamb for $5 a pound at the annual sheep and swine auction of the Pickaway County Junior Fair Friday.

Ward's Market and the Pickaway Pork Council combined to purchase the grand champion market pig from Wesley Hedges for a total of $679.50 and Laurelville Grain and Milling Co. paid the top of $525 for the champion market lamb to Anjanette Maxson.

The reserve champion hog owned by Steve Baum was purchased at $1 per pound by Duvall Grain and the reserve champion market lamb by Iron Horse Building Co. at $3.50 per pound.

Ward Skinner and Tom Boyer, the buyers of the champion hog, donated it to the Hamrick Youth memorial fund and it was resold for 75 cents a pound netting $168.75 for the fund. The purchaser the second time around was the Don Strous for Commissioner Committee. The committee in turn donated the hog to the Pickaway County 4-H Barbecue committee and it was resold for 65 cents a pound for a total of $146.25. The purchaser was Eyerman Packing Co., owned by George Bowling.

Lee May was the auctioneer at Friday night's sale.

Here is the complete list of buyers for the lamb sale:

Censure Move Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shunning a move to censure rather than impeach President Nixon, White House aides are portraying the proceeding in the House of Representatives as a political struggle, with President Nixon in the role of the underdog.

Republicans on Friday introduced in the House a resolution offering an alternative to a full-fledged impeachment proceeding. It would censure Nixon for "maladministration and moral insensitivity" but not call for his removal from office.

White House spokesmen had no formal comment on the resolution introduced by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., and signed by House GOP leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona.

While urging that the House be given such an alternative, Rhodes himself took no stand for or against censure. He scheduled a news conference for Monday to announce his position on impeachment.

White House spokesman Gerald L. Warren, talking with newsmen before presentation of the resolution, for the first time described impeachment as "a political struggle."

"We recognize the situation as it exists in the House... we face an up-hill struggle," Warren said. He later added that while he was not conceding the House would impeach Nixon, "if you had to make odds... you would have to place the President in the role of the underdog."

Warren's reference to the proceeding as political marked an apparent shift in White House strategy. Previously, he and other spokesmen have stressed the legal aspects of the proceeding and contended that the evidence would vindicate Nixon.

The spokesman described Nixon as "in very good spirits" and said he is spending much of his time reviewing tapes and other materials being turned over to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica as ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court last week.

In Sirica's courtroom on Friday,

White House lawyers were ordered to turn over Nixon's notes about subpoenaed Watergate conversations by Wednesday.

Sirica set the deadline after pressing the White House to speed the delivery of tapes and materials of 64 conversations and related documents subpoenaed for the Watergate coverup trial.

Meanwhile, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said he will ask the Senate to subpoena the tapes and materials of the 64 conversations if the Senate conducts a presidential impeachment trial.

House Speaker Carl Albert indicated opposition to censure, saying "I'm certainly not recommending it. I would not vote to censure the President. I would either vote for or against the (impeachment) resolution."

But Democratic Whip John J. McFall of California said "it's a possible way out" and contended House members should have that alternative.

In other action, Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., notified the House that 204 headsets would be ready in four rooms on Monday for members wanting to listen to tape recordings of President Nixon's talks with top aides.

1972 Dam Disaster Claim Suits Settled

MAN, W.Va. (AP) — "It's all over and I'm relieved... we beat Pittston," sighed Dennis Prince of Lundale Friday as he collected his share of the settlement from Pittston Co. for damages sustained in the 1972 Buffalo Creek disaster.

Prince and others had sued the New York firm for $64 million for losses suffered when a coal slag dam collapsed and inundated the Buffalo Creek Valley.

In an out-of-court settlement, Pittston agreed to pay $13.5 million in damages. Shares of that were distributed Friday to those who had sued.

Prince and his sons received more than $150,000. "I'm going to build a new home at Stowe," he said. "It's all over and I'm relieved. A lot of people think I should quit my job in the mine. I'm not going to, I've only got another year before I can retire," he said.

Gerald Stern, the Washington, D.C., lawyer who was chief counsel for the plaintiffs, expressed hope that the disaster would not be forgotten. "It has to be remembered so it won't be allowed to happen again," he said.

"We were able to pierce the corporate veil and prove the parent company responsible," Stern said. He noted that the agreement showed that disaster survivors can collect for psychological problems as well as property loss and wrongful death arising from corporate negligence.

Everett Maynard of Logan lost his home and a small store on Buffalo Creek. "They tried everything they could to get me to settle," Maynard said of Pittston's attorneys. "They offered me $56,000. I would have settled for $75,000, but when I tried to bargain they lowered the offer."

3-Grade Gasoline System Out?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A federal regulation requiring large gasoline stations to sell unleaded gasoline by Sept. 1 could mean the gradual end of the three-grade gasoline system, dealers say.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has ordered all stations pumping more than 200,000 gallons of gas a year to sell the unleaded fuel. It is required for 1975 autos equipped with catalytic pollution control devices.

James Cresente, executive director of the Northern Ohio Petroleum Retailers Association, said Friday that a number of stations have had to choose whether to offer only nonlead and regular gasoline or nonlead and premium gas.

"In a few years it's all going to be nonlead, you see," Cresente predicted.

Union Oil Company of California confirmed Cresente's statement. The company offers only nonlead and premium at its stations.

A spokesman for Standard Oil of Ohio admitted that there is a trend toward a two grade gasoline system.

"Since 1971, when the automobile industry announced the production of engines which would require unleaded low octane fuel, some petroleum companies chose to eliminate a grade rather than go to a three-grade system," said Pitt A. Curtiss of Sohio.

"Traditionally the market had a regular and a premium grade. There's been a declining demand developing for premium gasoline since this change in engine design," Curtiss said.

Weather

Mostly cloudy with showers or thundershowers likely today and tonight. High today in 70s. Low tonight, 60s. Cloudy with probable showers or thundershowers Sunday, high in 70s. Probability of precipitation, 80 per cent today and 30 per cent tonight and tomorrow. Temperatures Friday were: high, 88; low, 64.

The Maynards collected more than $120,000 Friday. They plan to use part of that for a supper club in Logan.

Equally happy with her settlement was Octavia Sharp of Kistler, the mother of 10 children. She said Pittston offered her $8,000 to settle and remain out of the suit.

She refused and Friday the family collected more than $100,000, most of which will be placed in a trust fund for her children.

House Panel OKs Tax Reform Bill Hiking Deductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tax-reform package designed to sprinkle benefits among taxpayers and to assure at least minimal tax payments from the wealthy has passed a key House panel.

And before giving tentative approval to the wide-ranging tax reform measure Friday, the House Ways and Means Committee combined the bill with the so-called energy tax reform bill after a warning that a Congress preoccupied with impeachment would more readily pass one tax bill than deal with two separate measures.

The biggest proposed benefit to the average taxpayer is the provision to boost the maximum standard deduction to $2,500 from $2,000, and to hike the minimum standard deduction to $1,400 from $1,300 on single returns and to $1,500 on joint returns.

The new minimum tax rate proposed by the committee would impose a 14 per cent levy on the first $50,000, 17 per cent between $50,000 and $100,000 and 20 per cent thereafter. The experts estimate this would affect some 187,000 tax returns.

To sweeten the burden for upper-income citizens, the panel proposed a slight decrease in the maximum capital gains tax rate, dropping it to 35 per cent from the present ceiling of 36.5 per cent.

The combination of hikes and cuts in tax levies was expected to produce a net revenue gain of $500 million annually, based on changes that would increase some taxes by $7 billion and decrease other taxes by $6.5 billion.

One of the major ingredients in the tax-hike side was the last-minute amendment that accelerates the previously-approved plan to phase out the controversial petroleum depletion allowance. The depletion tax break presently saves oilmen between $2 billion and $3 billion a year in federal taxes.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., committee chairman, successfully urged upon his colleagues the wisdom of starting the three-year phase-out this year, as opposed to the original starting date of Jan. 1, 1975. The first step in the gradual elimination of the 22 per cent depletion allowance would drop it to 15 per cent, retroactive to last Jan. 1.

The timing of this year's legislative calendar is heavily influenced by the pending impeachment question, Mills indicated. Thus, he argued, the Senate is faced with the prospect of President Nixon's trial and that body would only have time to consider one major tax bill this year.

Farmers Urged To Seek U.S. Disaster Relief Aid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

State officials are urging Ohio farmers to push for disaster relief assistance—apparently the only relief in sight from an extended dry spell.

Despite weekend forecasts for showers and thundershowers, the National Weather Service said rainfall amounts may not be sufficient to alleviate drought conditions in some areas of the state.

Northwestern corn and soybean yields may be reduced one-third to one-half of what was predicted a few weeks ago, farmers in the area estimate.

Raymond R. Casey, Ohio Farm Bureau economist, said state corn and soybean farmers have lost about $300 million from their expected fall crops. He said that total could rise if it doesn't rain soon.

The crisis has prompted Gov. John J. Gilligan to prepare a request to the federal government to make state farmers eligible for low-interest loans through the Farmers Home Administration.

M. David Urmston, deputy state agriculture director, urged stricken farmers to press county disaster committees to ask for federal disaster assistance under the 1974 Disaster Relief act.

Casey said the northwestern part of the state, without significant rainfall for some 10 weeks, is the heaviest grain-producing area in Ohio.

He said the area most likely beyond recovery extends from between Delaware and Marion almost all the way to Toledo. Casey said Ohio's corn and soybean crops are valued at $500 million each annually.

Gun Transport Law Unconstitutional

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A state law that prohibits transporting a loaded gun in a motor vehicle was declared unconstitutional on Friday by an Athens County municipal court judge.

Judge Roger Jones dismissed charges against Jerry Russell of Marion, who was accused of firing a 12-gauge shotgun at police officers during a car chase on June 8.

THE $994 HOG—The Grand Champion Market Hog, showed by Wesley Hedges, right, brought a total of $994.50 in three auctions Friday night at the Pickaway County Fair. It was originally purchased by Tom Boyer of the Pickaway County Pork Council and Ward Skinner of Ward's Market for $3.02 a pound. The men donated it to the Hamrick Memorial Fund, which sold it for 75 cents a pound to the Don Strous for County Commissioner Committee. The committee then donated to the Pickaway County 4-H Barbeque Committee, which resold it at 65 cents a pound to Eyerman Packing Co. 1973 Farm Income Skyrocketed WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has new figures showing farmers' net income last year soared 84 per cent from 1972, shattering a record set in World War I.

In all, the department's Economic Research Service said Thursday, net farm income totaled $32.2 billion, compared with a revised 1972 income level of $17.5 billion.

According to USDA records, that was the largest one-year gain since farm income jumped 49 per cent from $4.7 billion in 1916 to slightly more than $7 billion in 1917.

Looking to this year, the report said it was not likely farmers would net as much as they did in 1973. But the economists also held out the possibility that the prediction might change substantially if farm commodity prices rise much.

"For example, if crop production this fall declines from current expectations, crop prices and incomes will be high," the report said. "Under these circumstances livestock output might be held back, resulting in higher prices and incomes for livestock."

As defined by USDA, net farm income is what is left from what farmers make from sales after deducting production expenses.

The possibility that 1974 net farm income might go up from earlier prospects as the result of crop production being reduced is not inconsistent, economists say, since it could happen that higher commodity prices would more than offset reductions in actual quantities sold.

Although that means little to a farmer who has been wiped out by drought or other cause and has nothing to sell, on a national basis higher prices and reduced production can add up to larger net income.

The new report, a yearly review of the farm income situation, included for the first time complete revisions for previous years. The revisions involved including for the first time such income and expense items as money farmers earn or pay out for custom work and machine hire.

Also, the report said, allowances were made for farm costs of record keeping, accounting, legal fees and other expenses associated with running the business.

The net effect, according to the revised net income figures, was that farmers actually had less profits in past years than USDA had computed at the time.

During the 14-year span of 1959 through 1972, for example, the revised figures just published showed farmers had about $23 billion less net income than USDA had been saying earlier.

Since 1965, the figures showed, revised net incomes were down more than $2 billion per year from previous USDA calculations. In 1970, for example, the earlier net income figure was $16.8 billion, while the revision put it at slightly over $14 billion.

Newsprint Costs Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsprint prices went up again today for the fourth time this year after lingering price control agreements with U.S. manufacturers ended Thursday.

Producers blamed rising costs of raw materials.

A check of Eastern paper makers such as Great Northern Paper Co., Abitibi Southern Corp., and Bowaters Southern Paper Co., showed prices will go up to $234.50 from $213.50 a ton in the south and east for standard 30-pound newsprint.

International Paper Co. which supplies newspapers in the East and Midwest, will raise the price of 30-pound newsprint to $230 a ton.

In the West, Crown Zellerbach Corp., Boise Cascade Corp., and Southwest Forest Industries set prices for 30-pound newsprint at $245 a ton from $213.50. The higher Western price is largely due to higher freight and labor prices, the companies said.

Present world oil reserves will last for perhaps 100 years. Domestic reserves may be exhausted sooner.

If you haven't tried Purina High Octane Hog Chow

...talk to your neighbor...he has.

You'll find his enthusiasm is contagious!

This new, extra high-energy Chow with related amino acid and nutrient balance causes hog raisers who are using it to be our best salesmen.

When High Octane Hog Chow was released by Purina Research, the test results showed that it produced 9% better feed conversion and increased daily gain by 5%.

It was hard to believe any ration could be that exciting. Feeders across the nation were simply asked to try it. Their results and enthusiasm are causing High Octane Hog Chow to be the most talked-about product in the industry.

You can see the difference... in fact, some feeders who agreed to a split demonstration with High Octane Complete Chow versus conventional grain and concentrate stopped the demonstration when they saw how well the hogs on High Octane looked and how much less feed they were using. They put all of their hogs on the new high-energy ration.

High Octane Hog Chow is a complete ration for growing and finishing hogs. It's a revolutionary new, extra high-energy product that can save you feed. Ask your neighbor who's feeding it... he's our best salesman.

Problem Spot

Often it is the little, insignificant places which trigger major conflicts. Cyprus has long been regarded as one of these. The island itself is a pleasant vacation spa, at least when war is not under way, but by itself it certainly does not possess importance worthy of the risks the latest turmoil has brought.

NATO has been weakened by internal dissension and vacillation, but not until the Cyprus uprising and the invasion by Turkey have two members of NATO turned their U.S.-supplied armaments against one another. A further risk to the future of western defenses is entailed in the air bases the U.S. maintains in Turkey and the sea bases in Greece. In the ultimate mishandling of the Cyprus situation the U.S. could lose one or both of these strategic locations.

Also working to prevent a larger bloodbath are the British who gave Cyprus its independence 15 years ago, after considerable fighting. An interesting sidelight to independence is that it was Archbishop Makarios at that time who was leading the forces for union with Greece. Now Makarios prefers total independence, which is partly responsible for the rebellion by the Greek national guard officers.

Once again outside forces are fighting to determine the destinies of the people of Cyprus, and once again the entanglements reach far from the scene of strife.

An American Tragedy

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People ... Places

As the blows fell and re-fell in the House Judiciary Committee its members aged before our eyes. What started out as a jaunty "we'll-show-you" exercise of piqued authority developed into a sombre drama that at times might have been part of a script of a Eugene O'Neill tragedy. The majority was lifting a President of the United States into his tumbrel and finding it a heavy task.

No member of the committee will ever be the same man or woman again. None, upon being elected, ever expected to sit in judgment of a President who presided over the greatest ententes of their time, ended a rotten war that had been started and escalated by his predecessors, and had brought home the POWs. More in sorrow than in triumph, the committee threw the accused into the roaring arena of the full House.

Thanks mainly to television, the nation had an opportunity to compare and judge two Congressional panels involved in an historic action that school children a thousand years hence will still be studying. Rep. Peter Rodino's 38-member group examined its witnesses in such privacy as Capital Hill can offer. Sen. Sam Ervin's 7-man team glued them to the witness chair under the blazing Kleig lights and frequently exposed them to ridicule and scorn.

There was no laughter in Rodino's hearing room; much guffawing in Ervin's. Rodino is a plodding parliamentarian, Ervin was a corn pone Constitutionalist. Rodino is Raymond Burr, Ervin was Charlie Weaver. Ervin reached for laughs, and reprimanded his jubilant caucus room when it responded. Rodino's arms are too short to reach anything except the precise point of law. Not Hollywood, nor TV, nor the lecture circuit nor publishing world is beating a path to Rodino's offices. Ervin has assorted offers totaling more than half a million dollars.

That's partly because the Senator was surrounded by a smaller, and thus more easily identifiable, cast of co-stars — such as the head-strong Sen. Lowell Weicker, the pious Sen. Edward Gurney, the photogenic Sen. Howard Baker, the coldly indignant Sen. Daniel Inouye, the plegmatically suspicious Sen. Herman Talmadge, and the dead-panned and unconsciously comical Sen. Joseph Montoya.

The Senate committee's bit players remain unforgettable. When before in Senate history (except the time the midget sat on J.P. Morgan's lap) has there been assembled the likes of Ehrlichman, Haldeman, Gray, Helms, Krogh, Kalmbach, LaRue, Magruder, Mardian, Mitchell, Stans, Segretti, Sloan, Buchanan, Strachan, Walters, and the former New York dese and dem flatfoot, Ulasevicz?

There was only one witness before Rodino's panel when it went on the air. And he wasn't there. He was first in San Clemente and then in the White House, as the inexorable judgment descended. His man Ronald Ziegler said, with one of his straighter faces, that the accused was not even watching the telly. How stiff can an upper lip get?

Charles A. Lindbergh's hospitalization is due to a strange bug he picked up during his months in the all but impenetrable jungles of the Philippines. The mystery-shrouded immortal was there trying to arrange ententes among the aboriginal tribes that have been at war for centuries. On at least one mission to see the chief of a particularly truculent band, he was threatened with death by machinegun-brandishing warriors.

Who but Lindberg would volunteer to play a Kissinger role among semi-savages?

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Depending upon your point of view, the decision by the U.S. Treasury to borrow $4.3 billion in the open market is either further confusion or greater opportunity.

The Treasury is always doing something of the sort, because with a debt burden of $400 billion or so there is the constant need for refinancing. But there's a difference this time.

In the past the Treasury issued its notes in minimum units of $10,000. But in this latest financing, scheduled for Tuesday through Thursday of next week, some notes will be in $1,000 units.

That means the small investor and small saver can get in on the act, and quite likely collect in excess of 8 per cent interest from Uncle Sam, a higher rate than they can get at any savings institution.

That's great, you say, and in the opinion of many, you are correct. But others view the offering as destructive. They say it threatens "the system."

The savings banks and savings and loan associations fear they will lose deposits. Their customers, it is argued, will withdraw money from their accounts to buy the Treasury notes.

While some small savers might sympathize with the plight of the so-called thrift institutions, they feel even more strongly for themselves. Why should they accept 6 to 7 per cent from a savings bank if Uncle Sam offers 8 plus?

The savings institutions reply: If these same people want to obtain home mortgages they darn well better save with us. Not that a savings account is a requirement for a mortgage. It's a bit more complicated.

Savings banks and associations are the source of most home mortgages today. To facilitate this role, they are permitted to offer depositors a slightly higher interest rate on savings. The idea is to assure a flow of mortgage money.

That technique worked for a long while. But commercial banks have become more innovative; through various techniques they have narrowed the savings banks' advantage.

Moreover, small investors and depositors discovered the high returns on corporate and municipal bonds, which have no government-imposed limitation on the amount of interest they can pay.

Now, to the frustration of the savings institutions, the holding companies that run some commercial banks are planning to offer notes in small denominations at decidedly higher interest than anything the savings banks can offer.

As a result of all this, the savings institutions are losing hundreds of millions of dollars in deposits, reducing drastically their ability to make home mortgage loans. No deposits, no mortgages.

Start Campaign In Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Former Democratic Rep. Ray Blanton and Republican Lamar Alexander, once a White House aide, have begun the battle for governor of Tennessee.

"This fall we'll do just like Harry Truman," Blanton said after winning his party's nomination in Thursday's primary election. "We'll just tell the truth and they'll think we're giving them hell by telling the truth."

Taking note of impeachment developments, Alexander conceded, "Any Democratic nominee this year will be a substantial opponent. I think we have an uphill fight until November."

The heaviest recorded haul of narcotics was made off St. Louis at Rhones, France, where 78,400 pounds of floating bales containing unprocessed morphine, opium, heroin and hashish worth $75 million on the retail U.S. market, were found being loaded into canoes by three men on Feb. 25, 1971.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Aug. 3, the 215th day of 1974. There are 150 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1492, Christopher Columbus sailed from Spain on the expedition that resulted in the discovery of America.

On this date: In 1780, Benedict Arnold was put in command of the fortifications at West Point, New York, during the American Revolution.

In 1881, British troops occupied the Egyptian town of Suez. In 1914, Germany declared war on France.

Five years ago: President Nixon wound up a visit to Bucharest saying that in his trips to 60 nations, "there had been none more memorable than his visit to Romania."

One year ago: A fire at an amusement center on Britain's Isle of Man claimed 51 lives.

Today's birthdays: Singer Tony Bennett is 48. Former film star Dolores del Rio is 69.

Thought for today: If you wish to succeed, consult three old people—a Chinese saying.

Fred C. Clark was the guest speaker at the week's meeting of Rotary International. Clark was a local funeral director and said "our business is somewhat different from the average business of today." He pointed out that people did not like to talk about it nor hear about it.

The speaker also said that the profession of embalming was of a great aid to the preservation of the health of the community since the method kills all germs present in the body.

A Laureville man was arrested by Sheriff Frank Davis and two deputies for possessing three gallons of whiskey. The authorities had originally sought the man not for possession of liquor but on a warrant for operating a still on his neighbor's land.

Albert and Pearl Harrison, employees of the Fritz Bakery, returned home after finishing a baking course at the Gwynn Milling Company in Columbus. The course was sponsored by the Fleischman Yeast Company.

Through the efforts of the Pickaway County Farmers and Sportman Protective Association, seven crates of approximately 250 young pheasants were distributed along the smaller streams of practically every township in the county. The efforts were to secure quotas for Pickaway County.

Sheriff Frank Davis returned a nationally famous pedigreed Boston Bull and her puppy to their owner after they had been stolen from a Lancaster Kennel. The mother dog was valued at $500. The salesman who took the dogs came to Circleville where the pup dug out of the pen behind Hamilton's Store on W. Main St.

The mother dog was given to a Circleville resident who had good intentions for her when the owners arrived in town and offered a big reward for the dogs' return.

Both dogs were located but were suffering from distemper which they had contracted while on their tour of Roundtown.

Ground was broken Aug. 5, 1929, for the new $60,000 hospital and was at the time unnamed but was to be built on N. Pickaway St., near Northridge Road. The hospital board was composed of Mayor B. T. Hedges, R. L. Brehmer, Fred R. Nicholas, S. T. Rife, H. G. Stevenson, and James I. Smith. The hospital was to contain 22 beds.

"The hospital called today to tell us they're naming one of the rooms in the new maternity ward after us."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How do physicians feel about the use of hormones during a woman's change of life?

Mrs. L. P., Ohio

Dear Mrs. P.:

When the idea of using estrogen, or female sex hormone, was first introduced there was a great deal of discussion about its value.

Positions were taken by some doctors who firmly believed in its advantages. Others were just as forcefully against its use in women who were entering menopause, or "change of life."

Today, there is greater stabilization of thought about its advantages.

However, hormones are never given indiscriminately to all people. It is for this reason that each woman who is in her pre-menopausal or menopausal phase is individually studied and evaluated before the estrogen is advised.

The general consensus is that female sex hormone is advantageous. It may reduce some of the unpleasant "flush" feelings so often associated with early change of life.

Extensive scientific studies have also shown that the absorption of calcium from the bones, known as "osteoporosis," a common condition among women of menopausal age, can be delayed by the use of estrogen hormone.

Each person must follow the dictates of her own physician.

My husband is 34-years-old. He is in good health except for a hacking cough. Whenever he smokes a cigarette he goes into an absolute spasm. I've learned to tolerate the cough, but can't this do damage to his heart?

Mrs. M. B., Ind.

Dear Mrs. B.:

It is undeniable that the tars and other ingredients in cigarettes are responsible for some cases of cancer of the lung, the larynx and for circulatory disturbances. This is unquestionable.

In your husband's case, the smoke itself acts as an irritant to the inner lining of the bronchial tube. The lungs explosively try to get rid of this irritating pollutant.

Persistent hacking over a long period of time must, indeed, put extra pressure on the heart. It would be unfair to terrify your husband by making him believe that a heart attack is inevitable. I am sure there must be more sensible ways of getting him to give up tobacco.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

Who says people no longer get involved? I tried to enter Berger Hospital for some tests without telling anyone but my nearest neighbor and immediate family. But I forgot to tell the admitting clerk it was not to be published so the news media was notified.

As soon as the news was out the phones went into use and soon I had been directly contacted by a neighbor concerned for my well-being. Then I was deluged with offers to do any and all things to help.

I was in much longer than I expected and the good deeds continued—phone calls, visits, flowers, reading material, useful gifts, then cards.

In due time I was released and the good deeds continue. So I'm among the most sincere in saying, "Yes, Virginia, people do get involved."

Someone got involved to the extent that the outside mirror was stolen from my car while it was parked in front of the hospital. Everything was appreciated except that last item. Such lack of consideration!

Drought Help Applications Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Applications for federal assistance for drought-stricken farmers in Ohio were expected to be on the governor's desk sometime today, gubernatorial news secretary Robert Tenenbaum said.

The applications were being processed by state Agriculture Director Gene R. Abercrombie.

The state will ask the federal government to make Ohio farmers eligible for low-interest loans through the Farmers Home Administration in order to recoup monetary losses as a result of a lack of rain during the growing season.

felt she was mature enough to carry out the duties of queen, only then would he sponsor her. Therefore, the candidates' achievements, interests, talents, and ambitions were considered. On judging day she did not have to perform a talent.

The statement "she won most genuine beauty in the state" isn't quite correct. It was of a larger scope. Entrants could be from other states, but the sponsors (photographers) were from Ohio only. This contest was considered a National Contest although in 1969 Ohio News Photographers tried to carry on alone. We recall girls from West Virginia, Michigan, and Kentucky among entrants.

Sincerely,

School Data Available To Parents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a little-noticed section of the omnibus education bill sent to President Nixon this week, Congress has given parents the right to inspect, challenge and protect their children's school records.

The authority, which applies to all schools receiving federal aid, is detailed in the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974.

The House at first rejected that section, inserted by the Senate, but reversed itself Wednesday when it approved the final compromise version of the education bill.

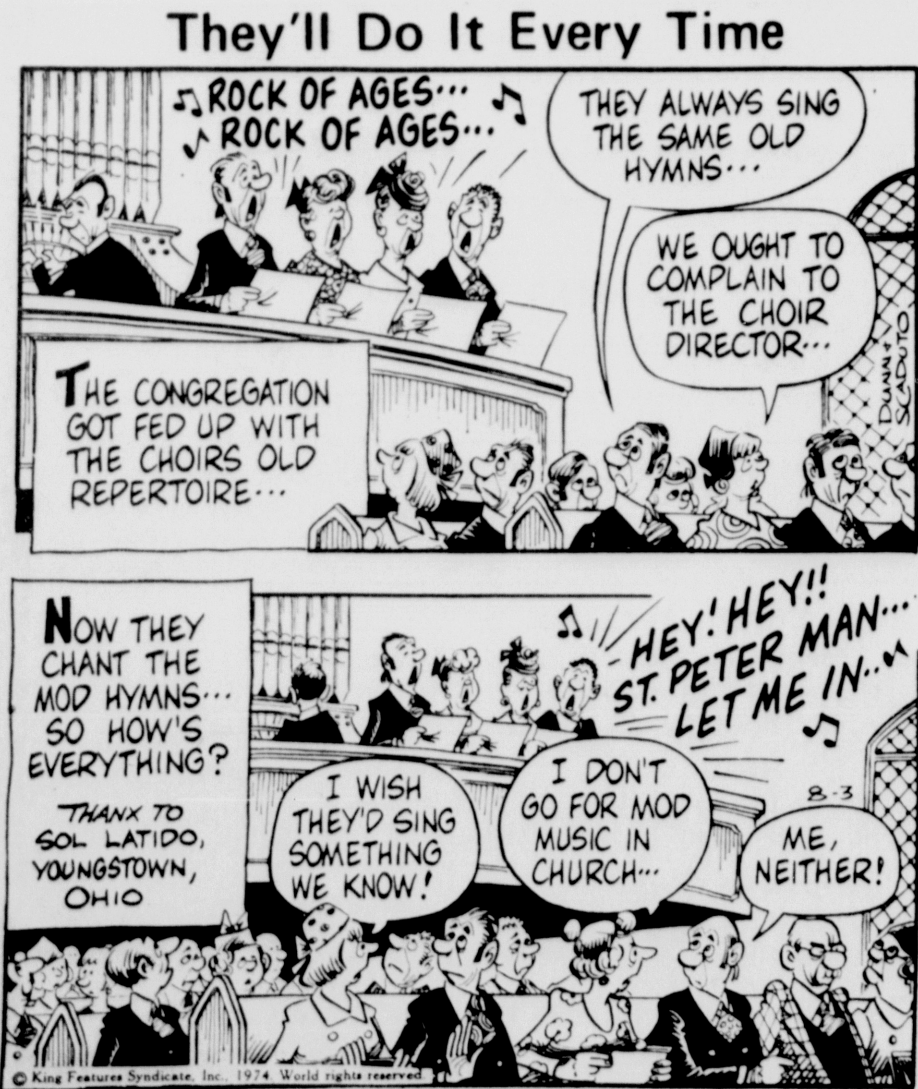

Under the act, no elementary or secondary school or institution of higher education may receive federal funds if it:

—Denies parents the right to inspect and review any and all official records, files and other information about their children.

—Permits the release without the parents' written consent of any records or files in which the identity of the child or parent is easily recognizable, except for limited educational purposes specified in the act.

—Forbids parents the right to a hearing to correct or remove inaccurate, misleading or "inappropriate data."

Sen. James L. Buckley, R-Con.-N.Y., introduced the measure in the Senate with the backing of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Grand Jury Returns 5 Indictments

The grand jury met Friday afternoon in its fourth session returning five indictments out of the six cases presented by the county prosecutor's office.

Only one of the charges against Gary R. Butcher, Grove City, brought an indictment. The grand jury returned a charge of theft against him but returned a no bill on a presentation of evidence aimed at a receiving stolen property charge.

Deputy Lawrence Holt testified before the grand jury, against Rickie Lee Jester, 18, Route 1, New Holland, for charges of attempted murder and attempted escape. The charges arose when Jester was picked up in New Holland by the deputy on a misdemeanor charge earlier in July and attempted to escape by choking Holt. Jester was shot during the hassle in the cruiser.

Arraignments will be held Wednesday morning for Robert Shaffer, Columbus and Virgil Monroe Detty, Chillicothe. Shaffer was indicted for aggravated burglary and Detty for receiving stolen property. Both Butcher and Jester will also appear in the Wednesday session of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

City Wrecks Injure 3

Three people were hurt in two injury accidents investigated by Circleville Police.

Two were injured in a two-vehicle crash 12:36 p.m. Friday at the Lancaster Pike and Fairview Ave.

According to the report, a camper operated by Jack Simpson, 42, Warren, Ohio, was stopped in Pickaway County Fair traffic when it was struck from the rear by a car driven by James R. Butler, 16, Route 4.

Both vehicles suffered extensive damage, according to police, who issued no citations.

Butler was treated at Berger Hospital for elbow lacerations. Fay Simpson, 29, a passenger in the camper, was treated for possible head injuries and whiplash.

Police charged 20-year-old Larry McFarland, 152 Villa Dr., with failing to yield the right of way after the car he was driving was struck by a train 12:07 a.m. Saturday.

The accident occurred on Clinton St. at the Mill St. railroad crossing.

The train, operated by P. F. Kitchen, was allegedly backing from Eshelman's Mill when it collided with the car, owned by Roy Ward, 219 Sherwood Dr.

McFarland was treated for minor injuries, according to police.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Basketball And Backrubs

DEAR ABBY: Recently I met a guy who says he loves me. When I ask him why, he says it's because I have a pair of pro basketball season tickets and can pilot an airplane to take us to out-of-town games. He says it's also because I give fabulous backrubs.

I care for him very much, but am wondering if this relationship can last. Strange as this seems, it's true.

UP IN THE AIR
DEAR UP: You sound easy to love. The relationship should last as long as you can get those pro basketball tickets, can fly him to out-of-town games, and provide him with backrubs.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 22-year-old sister who has been married a year and has a small baby. Her husband is a professional shoplifter. He says he's been in the business for 20 years. He rips off everything from a package of cigarettes to an $8,000 houseboat. He brags about it. She has a two-carat diamond and a houseful of furniture which he obtained through shoplifting. It's unbelievable what this man can pick up.

I am worried about my sister. She lives in another state. When I saw her last I told her she was foolish to live with a man who might be sent to prison. She just laughed and said he is too smart to get caught, and besides all he could get is a $100 fine.

Is she mentally sick? I am 28, married to a good man and have a fine family, and I am worried. Is there anything I can do?

BIG SISTER

DEAR SIS: Tell your sister that she is mistaken if she thinks all he can get is a $100 fine for grand larceny. And if she just "laughs" when you try to set her straight, she could be mentally sick.

DEAR ABBY: My fiancé is a divorced man. His "ex" calls him once a week without fail "to talk." They have no children, so I don't know what they talk about. (She is still unmarried.)

My fiancé says he doesn't mind her calling him because he appreciates knowing that she is okay.

He is very good to me, but these calls from his "ex" every week irritate me. I would like your opinion.

"R"

DEAR "R": In my opinion, your fiancé appears to be a very kind and considerate man. He's not married yet. If his "ex" continues to call him, and he continues to "not mind" after he's married to you write again, and I may have a different opinion.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Had a coronary? Join the Coronary club. If your heart is okay and you'd like to learn how to keep it that way, you can join anyway. (I did.) A DELICIOUS DIVISION OF VAN-ORR FOODS"

Geronimo's Bat Leads Reds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Playing with a cast of heavy hitters like John Bench, Pete Rose, Joe Morgan, and Tony Perez, it would be easy to overlook Cesar Geronimo as a vital member of the Cincinnati Reds' offense.

But Geronimo, better known for his fielding prowess in center field, doesn't like to lurk in the shadows, as the San Francisco Giants discovered in Friday night's 9-4 loss at Candlestick Park.

Geronimo belted a leadoff triple to trigger a four-run third and opened the four-run fourth with a homer. He boosted his batting average to a solid .320 as the red-hot Reds remained 5½ games back of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"What can I say?" asked the 26-year-old Geronimo. "Many people think of me as a defensive player, but I've always considered myself a pretty good hitter. I take pride in my fielding, but hitting is the big thing."

Geronimo's eighth triple and fifth home run both represented career season highs for the rangy Dominican. They also made it easy for Jack Billingham, 13-7, to notch the victory Friday night with relief help from Clay Carroll.

Marichal Stops Orioles, 7-5

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

"It's good to be back."

Juan Marichal, shunted to the disabled list with a back ailment for nearly two months, rejoined the living Friday night.

Reactivated earlier in the day, the 35-year-old right-hander with the distinctive high kick pitched six innings of solid relief, stopping Baltimore on two hits and leading the Boston Red Sox to a 7-5 victory over the Orioles.

Frank Robinson, Bruce Bochte and Bobby Valentine delivered run-scoring singles in the fourth inning and the Angels held on to win a game which was called during the top half of the seventh inning because of rain.

The wet conditions caused numerous misplays.

Royals 4, Rangers 0

Nelson Briles and Steve Mingori teamed to shut out Texas on 10 hits, with Briles posting the 100th victory of his career and Mingori coming on to retire the final two batters.

Tigers 4, Brewers 1

Dave Lemanczyk, making his first major league start, teamed with Detroit relief ace John Hiller to stop Milwaukee on five hits. Lemanczyk left after facing one man in the eighth, and Hiller preserved the victory by striking out four men in two innings.

Indians 8, Yankees 2

Buddy Bell cleared the bases with a third-inning double to help Cleveland on its way to victory over New York and former Indian pitcher Sam McDowell, 1-5.

Rookies Slated For Action In Dolphins-Bengals Clash

CINCINNATI (AP)—Amid sinking fan interest and warring holdouts, the Cincinnati Bengals and Miami Dolphins open exhibition play tonight in what promises to be a full dress rehearsal for rookies.

The matchup will bear little resemblance to the Christmas showdown seven months ago when the two collided in the National Football League playoffs.

Cincinnati has the advantage because they've had more players report, but whatever they do to us now we'll get even in the playoffs," said Dolphins' owner Joe Robbie.

Bengal officials were hesitant to predict the size of the turnout in light of 8,000 refunded tickets by fans less than enthusiastic about paying between $7.50 and $10.25 for the scrimmage.

No picketing was expected by holdout members honoring the players association strike.

Lancaster Women Bowlers Plan Fall Meeting

The annual fall meeting and workshop of the Lancaster Women's Bowling Association will be held Tuesday, August 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Elks Home, Lancaster.

The workshop is to explain and discuss new and old rules. It is for every member of the Association, but should be a must for all league officers.

A question and answer period will follow the discussion of rules, duties of officers, etc.

The most notable absentees will be Miami quarterback Bob Griese, running back Larry Csonka and Cincinnati's potent backfield combination of Essex Johnson and AFC "rookie of the year" Charles "Booby" Clark.

The Bengals, who have not lost an exhibition or regular season game at home since 1972, have gathered the largest number of veterans of any NFL clubs.

But the lineup will be liberally sprinkled with rookies despite the 28 available veterans.

Coach Paul Brown, sticking with his usual extensive screening of talent, indicated he would "give them all a taste of it."

Neither club will have more than two starters from last year in the starting offensive lineup.

Peterson Hurls Tribe To 8-2 Win

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — When the crowd starts humming Fritz Peterson starts getting nervous and it seems like Peterson has been hearing a lot of the humming bird lately.

"I was glad to win that one tonight, because I started hearing the humming again," Peterson said, after the Cleveland Indians defeated the New York Yankees 8-2 Friday night.

He said he didn't get as much satisfaction out of beating his former teammates then he did from getting the fans off his back.

"I haven't won much at home," he said. "And when you're going bad you can hear them start chattering. It's a humming. It started in the early innings tonight (Friday). It makes me nervous."

"Last time when I got bombed in the first inning I told (Ken) Aspromonte that I'd leave the mound first so I'd get all the boos and he'd get a little break," Peterson continued.

Peterson went seven and one-third innings, giving up two runs, on eight hits, striking out four and walking three. He is now 8-6. Tom Buskey came on in relief and held the Yankees, but didn't gain a save.

New York scored in the first inning when Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly sent Roy White across the plate. Another sacrifice fly by Jim Mason in the fourth scored Thurman Munson.

The Indians tied the score in the first. Frank Duffy scored on John Ellis' single. In the third they added three more when Buddy Bell doubled to clean the loaded bases.

Jack Baiornos of Quincy, Mass., and Jim Bradley of Johnstown, Pa., will co-captain Penn State's 1974 football team.

Atlanta Braves today while the Reds were idle before playing a doubleheader at San Diego Sunday.

Manager Wes Westrum of the Giants bemoaned the sloppy play which contributed to five unearned Cincinnati runs. There were four physical errors, but it was the mental miscues which particularly irked the San Francisco skipper.

"You expect physical errors but the mental mistakes kill you," said Westrum, referring to a pair of plays in the third.

On one, second baseman Mike Phillips failed to cover first on a bunt. Halicki throwing wildly into right field for an error. On the other, a trapped Rose outraced catcher Dave Rader to the plate on a rundown when nobody covered home.

"It was just terrible," Westrum said.

But Rose offered sympathy. "The big thing in baseball is communication," he said. "So it's tough to stay alert out there when you have so many different guys playing. Chris Speier (shortstop) is their only infield regular."

North Stars Win Over South, 21-0

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The thrill of victory for winning Ohio All Star Coach Don Buccu was dulled by the thoughts of a game with Pennsylvania All Stars next week.

"It's a stacked deck we're facing in Hershey," said Buccu moments after he led the North to a 21-0 victory over the South Friday night in the Ohio high school football All Star contest.

"Something has to be done. Pennsylvania started out with 66 players. Now, they've still got 33 and they've already been practicing," said Buccu.

Meanwhile, the coach of the Ohio All Stars was trying to rummage up 33 players to take to Pennsylvania for practice this weekend.

"We'll take as many North players as possible, and then we'll have to get other kids locally (around Canton). It's a stacked deck," Buccu said.

Ohio has lost both previous encounters with Pennsylvania in the big 33.

One of the players Buccu will not have will be Ted Bell, the Ohio Class AAA Back of the Year, who scored twice against the south.

Bell, who played for Buccu on the state championship Youngstown Mooney team will bypass the game Aug. 10 to concentrate on workouts for his first Michigan State University year.

Bell scored on runs of four and three-yards before he was hurt just before halftime. The 6-foot, 180-pounder piled up 70 of the North's 91 ground yards in the first half.

Buccu said of Bell, who watched from the sidelines in the second half, "He just had the wind knocked out of him in the first half. He twisted his knee early in the game though."

"We wanted to run the football. We didn't want to put it in the air unless we had to," said Buccu, ironically a good passing quarterback from Youngstown East in his high school days. Buccu, in fact, played on the losing North team in the 1951 contest in Middletown.

"Sure, this gives me satisfaction," he said. "I felt the pressure tonight."

Neal Billman of Gahanna, the head South coach, blamed Rebel errors for a fourth straight South loss. The North leads the series 14-12-3.

Crowds Small At NFL Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

National Football League club owners got a boot in the gate and striking players received a bit of heavy blocking from the fans as the exhibition season kicked off before more empty seats than people.

Friday night's three rookie and free-agent infested preseason games drew 74,543 fans, about the same number of enthusiasts who packed any one stadium a year ago, when starters and other veterans were in full force on the fields.

In Washington, the New England Patriots beat the Redskins 21-16 before an announced crowd of 16,403 paid, the smallest crowd ever to watch pro football in RFK Stadium—and it appeared that even fewer people than that were on hand in the 54,374-seat park.

There were 28,021 people in Los Angeles' 92,000-seat Coliseum to see Bob Thomas, a World Football League reject, kick a 19-yard field goal with two seconds to play which gave the Rams a 24-21 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

The crowd was the smallest in the 29-year history of the Los Angeles Times Charity Game. Last year it drew 74,461.

And in Buffalo's 80,020-seat Rich Stadium, which was filled to the brim a year ago when the Bills played their first preseason game, 30,119 fans turned out to watch the Green Bay Packers score a 16-13 victory.

Unlike Washington, which had about 70 pickets on hand, the Los Angeles and Buffalo games were not picketed.

In just about every case, the teams are predicting fewer turnstile turns.

Before Friday's slim crowds appeared, some owners had been saying the season would be played, whether or not the major share of veterans were a part of it. And some striking players had expressed the opinion that, if large crowds showed up to watch the kids who are trying to take away their jobs, the strike might be crippled.

Jeffersonville Lions Set Babe Ruth Tourney

The Jeffersonville Lions Club will sponsor a double elimination Babe Ruth Tournament August 10-11.

The tournament is open to all teams with boys 13 thru 15 years of age. Entry fee for the event is $25.

Mark Justus Gets ODC Grant

Mark Justus, a 1974 Logan Elm High School graduate and baseball infielder, has received an athletic grant from Ohio Dominican College, Columbus, for next fall.

The 5-foot, 11-inch Justus hit .412 his senior year with his lowest average in four years of varsity baseball being .323 during his junior year.

Mark, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Justus, Route 1, Stoutsville, was all-league, all-district and played in the state all-star game in June.

U.S. Leading 6-3

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pair of teen-agers, Maureen Walker of Scotland and Tegwin Perkins of Wales, upset the form chart on the opening day of the United States-Great Britain Curtis Cup golf matches.

The U.S. women held a 6-3 point lead going into today's final nine matches on the San Francisco Golf Club course and appeared headed for an eighth straight victory in the biennial amateur golf competition.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR MONDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): New opportunities indicated in many fields—but especially where monetary interests are concerned. A splendid time for consolidating your position in this respect.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Your best stock in trade—creativity—gets a boost from a friendly Venus. Now's the time to put over your imaginative (and feasible) ideas.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Frank talk with superiors and (or) associates should prove exceptionally profitable. Wholehearted cooperation will be offered—freely and graciously.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Unexpected complications call for a sudden change in business matters but, in making them, rely on your own judgment—not that of others.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A splendid day for clearing away recent differences which, if allowed to crystallize, could become real problems. A bit of frank talk could do the trick.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): If a "good" idea backfired, don't be discouraged. Look into the possible reasons—and make a new start. No good idea or effort is ever a total loss.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Unusual tact needed here—in domestic, social and business circles. Don't "make waves" or stir up dissension—only too easily done now if you are not alert.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): You may find some real values in seemingly unimportant offerings. Don't dismiss lightly. Neither make changes in matters now running smoothly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): You are always ambitious, and this day will open new areas in which to profit by your know-how. Results may not be immediate, however, so be patient.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Don't wait too long before making up your mind where the time element is important. Highly favored: travel, long-term investments, outdoor interests and literary pursuits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Be sure that your motives and meanings are clear to others. Don't take for granted that all of your intimates own "crystal balls."

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A good period for planning expansion of all your interests. A little more research into a project you may be considering could prove beneficial.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly gifted individual, with a great love of "show." Crowds, pageantry, pomp and ceremony thrill you—all the more if you are an integral part of it all. You always aspire to be in the spotlight and, fortunately, you have the talents required to put you there. You would make an outstanding entertainer—either dramatic or comedic—and your gift for words could lead to an eminent writing career. Other fields for which you have an affinity: the law, medicine or chemistry—and you could succeed in any of them—but you could also excel in business—especially in the areas of salesmanship or promotion. Birthdate of: Guy de Maupassant, Fr. writer; Alex Kinglake, Eng. historian; Robert Taylor, film star; Neil A. Armstrong, astronaut (first man to walk on the moon.)

Echos Hiway Wins Feature At Latonia

Eight Juveniles, Two Adults Appear Before Judge Cline

Eight juveniles and two adults appeared before Judge Guy G. Cline this past week in juvenile court. The court also granted one consent to marry and released several probationers from probation.

Two 16-year-old boys, one from Ashville and the other of Route 1, Ashville, appeared on charges of vandalism of the Pickaway County Jail. Both boys had pleaded not guilty to the charges earlier but were found guilty by the court. Cline suspended a seven-day detention sentence on condition that restitution and court costs were paid within 60 days.

Assistant County Prosecutor James R. Kingsley agreed to a dismissal of a breaking and entering charges against each of the two boys. It was on these charges for which they had originally been incarcerated in the county jail.

The court also suspended the sentence passed on an 18-year-old Circleville girl charged with assault on a minor. The girl had pleaded not guilty and the court suspended the $25 fine on condition she stay away from the other person involved.

Two 13-year-old Ashville boys were placed on one year's probation for consuming alcoholic beverages. The court ordered them not to associate with older persons involved in the incident leading to their arrest and ordered them not to consume alcoholic beverages.

Theft at Buckeye Mart charges were filed by the Circleville Police against a 17-year-old Circleville boy. He was placed on probation for two years and the court suspended a 60-day detention sentence and ordered him to register for and attend school this fall.

Carl Ramsey Jr., Lowery Lane, appeared before the court on a charge of contributing to the unruliness of a minor. A 60-day jail sentence was suspended on condition he not associate with the girl involved without her mother's permission.

Three cases were dismissed after the youths had served their probation. The court also released two other youths from probation and terminated three cases with the Pickaway County Children's Services.

The parents of a 14-year-old Ashville girl were ordered to pay support and poundage to the Children's Services for her care.

Kevin Kee Pettibone, 16, Ashville, was convicted earlier by the juvenile court for charges of driving without a valid operator's license. Part of the Boy Breaks Leg In Bridge Fall

Eric Fowler, 14, 446 Watt St., was injured when he fell from the bridge on Lancaster Pike into Hargus Creek 8 p.m. Friday.

Fowler was treated at Berger Hospital for multiple leg fractures.

According to police, he was walking across the bridge on the guard rail when he lost his balance and fell into the rocky creek bed.

Cattlemen Plan Pit Beef Barbecue

The Pickaway County Cattle Feeders Assn. is holding its annual pit beef barbecue Aug. 15 at the Bill Richards farm on the Canal Road.

Tickets for the barbecue may be purchased at the Pickaway County Extension office, 137 W. Franklin St., or at Columbus Production Credit, 1154 N. Court St., or from members of the cattle feeders association.

sentence was an order not to apply for a license until six months after completion of driver's training. The court finding that the required time had elapsed, lifted the order.

Consent to marry was granted by the court to a 15-year-old Circleville girl because of pregnancy. The court also transferred one case to Ross County and two to Franklin County, the home counties of the defendants.

Jeffrey Alan Trimble, 16, Ashville, was cited into the Juvenile court on a speed charge of driving 69 miles per hour in a 55 zone. The court suspended a $10 fine and suspended Trimble's license for one month granting driving privileges for him to drive to work and traffic school only.

A final case before the court was a

Local Fire Fighters Get Certificates

Twenty Pickaway Township firemen received certificates for completing 30 hours of instruction in fire fighting skills and techniques at the close of the last class period June 20.

Individual cards were presented to each man completing the training and a department certificate was presented to Chief Orlando Brown by Lt. Robert Featheringham, vocational training fire instructor.

The certificates and cards as well as the instruction were authorized and made available by the Trade and Industrial Vocational Education Service of the State Department of Education, in cooperation with the Pickaway Township Trustees and the Pickaway-Ross Vocational School.

Lt. Featheringham of the Harrison Township Fire Department at Ashville praised the members of the class for their community spirit in improving their efficiency in fire fighting. The instructor commended the men for their interest in the training and for the cooperation he received.

Eight of the Pickaway firemen received advanced fire fighting certificates, and the 12 new men received basic certificates. The certificates are valid for a period of three years, and are renewable through a refresher course at the end of the third year.

Men who qualified for basic and advanced certificates are:

Five firemen from the Tarlton Fire Department also attended the class.

Receiving advanced certificates are: Paul Rayburn, Glenn Pearce, Ray McJunkin, Lester Miller, and Dick Herron.

traffic charge against Colleen K. Adams, 17, 185 Park Lawn. Miss Adams was charged with driving 68 miles per hour in a 55 zone. The court suspended a $10 fine and the court costs and suspended her license for 18 days. Further order of the court also allowed her to drive to work and traffic school during the period of suspension.
